Lyon County

Lyon County History

Lyon County’s first inhabitants, the Sioux Tribe of the Dakota Nation, moved in the 17th century along the Redwood River. Joseph O’Gara was the first white settler in 1849. In 1860, the federal government established the Lake Benton School, which was one of the first schools in the area. In 1868, the United States government established the Indian Reservation, and the area became the site of several small communities. The population of Lyon County grew from around 2,500 in 1850 to over 7,000 in 1870.

Lyon County is composed of over 200,000 acres. In a typical year, around 300,000 visitors are attracted to Lyon County. Many of these visitors are tourists who come to enjoy the scenic beauty of the area. The county is also home to several small towns, including Marshall, Garvin, and Tracy.

Lyon County Events

- Garvin Events
- Marshall Events
- Russell Events
- Tracy Events

Lyon County is known for its beautiful landscapes and recreational opportunities. The county is also home to several historic sites, including the Lyon County Courthouse and the Garvin County Park.

Lyon County GIS Department

This drawing is neither a legally recorded map nor a survey and is not intended to be used as one. This drawing is a graphic representation of the Lyon County GIS data. This drawing is subject to cumulative errors and is not intended to be used as a legal instrument. This drawing is provided "as is" without warranty of any kind, either expressed or implied. The Lyon County GIS Department will not be responsible for any inaccuracies herein contained. If discrepancies are found please contact the Lyon County GIS Department.